Coldwater Church of Christ

Welcome visitors and members! February 10, 2019

Next Potluck February 17th.

Congregational Meeting afterward.

Cathleen was taken to the hospital in Angola last evening by ambulance. Apparently, Cathleen had some Clam Chowder last night that contained some shrimp residue, and Cathleen is VERY allergic to shrimp. She is doing much better.

The Congregational Meeting was moved to next Sunday after the potluck. Please plan to be here to discuss the work of the church for this coming year.

Ella is having some kidney issues. Please keep her in your prayers.

Loretta's cousin Susan passed away. The funeral was Friday. Please pray for comfort for the family.

David Graham, had two surgeries and is doing much better. Please continue to pray for healing.

Ladies' Life Talks at Tammie's house twice a month on the 1st & 3rd Mondays of each month. See Tammie for more information.

"A Time to Laugh":

An archaeologist was digging in the Negev Desert in Israel and came upon a casket containing a mummy. After examining it, he called the curator of a prestigious historical museum. "I've just discovered a 3,000-year-old mummy of a man who died of heart failure!" the excited scientist exclaimed. To which the curator replied, "Bring him in. We'll check it out." A week later, the amazed curator called the archaeologist. "You were right about the mummy's age and cause of death. How in the world did you know?" "Easy", he said, "There was a piece of paper in his hand that said, '10,000 Shekels on Goliath'."

No Place Like Home

$238 million. That is the price that was recently paid for a four-story condo on Central Park South in New York City. That makes it the most expensive home in the history of the United States. The unit contains 24,000 square feet and comprises the 50th to the 53rd floors in a building dubbed as "the billionaires' bunker." The "bunker" features private dining rooms, a sports club, juice bar, library, and a basketball court.

The buyer, Ken Griffin, has been called a "globe-trotting house collector." He also owns a $58.75 million condo in Chicago; a $60 million penthouse in Miami; $250 million worth of land to build a Palm Beach compound, and a $122 million London mansion. *

One wonders in which luxurious accommodation he will spend most of his time. The Bible teaches that one day each of these mansions and condos – all of the earth and the works therein – will be burned up (2 Peter 3:10). All the things of this earth will "go up in smoke." This truth indicates that those who have invested only in things of this world are poor investors. But the Christian has a "mansion" awaiting in heaven.

Jesus offered comfort to His troubled disciples reminding them of their eternal home: "Let not your heart be troubled; you believe in God, believe also in Me. In My Father's house are many mansions [literally, "abiding places, rooms"]; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you to Myself; that where I am, there you may be also" (John 14:1-3).

Our sin puts us on the path to eternal destruction (Matthew 7:13-14), but the Savior wants to take us to live in an eternal home (1 Peter 1:3-4). The Apostle Peter encouraged some suffering saints with these words: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to His abundant mercy has begotten us again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled and that does not fade away, reserved in heaven for you" (1 Peter 1:3-4).

The beauty of this heavenly home is beyond our comprehension (see Revelation 21; cf. 1 Corinthians 2:9). The real beauty of the Christian's eternal home is who will share it with him: the heavenly Father; our Redeemer, Jesus Christ; and the redeemed of all the ages. Heaven will also be wonderful because of what will not be there: "And God will wipe away every tear from their eyes; there shall be no more death, nor sorrow, nor crying. There shall be no more pain, for the former things have passed away."

This eternal, heavenly home was "purchased" at a great price: the blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son. Jesus died on the cross for our sins so that we can have an eternal home in heaven with Him. This home can be ours if we will accept it on His terms.
